

The Southern Exposition is indeed a thing of beauty and will be a joy for a month and a half to come. The management, under the direction of its indefatigable President, Bennett H. Young, has left nothing undone to make it comprehensive, attractive and instructive, and how well it has succeeded, a ramble through its spacious halls and grounds would impress with favorable wonder even the most sceptical of the directors of a somewhat similar undertaking in a rival city a hundred miles or so up the river. Though less than two weeks open, the attractions are as great and in some respects superior to the great exhibition of last year, even at the height of its success, and the cry is still for space. The exhibits embrace everything, displayed in the most attractive manner and the scene, when lit up with its thousands of electric lights and animated by the presence of fifty to twenty thousand happy-looking people, as it was when we were there Thursday night, was one of gorgeous splendor, and when the music of Cappa's splendid military band filled the building with its stirring strains, the ordinary mortal was transported with pleasurable and exciting emotions.

The Art Gallery is filled with statuary and paintings by the best masters and is always thronged with visitors. Here the "Woman Triumphant" and others of his match group of statuary, are displayed in the centre of the building and are alone worth a journey to see. The female form divine, in all its matchless and spotless beauty, is given with a master hand and in a manner almost above criticism. As the catalogues had not been completed, a majority of the pictures had to suggest their own story, but there are many that are familiar, such as the matchless portrayal of "Charlotte Corday in Prison," and others that once seen can never be forgotten.

The amusements this year are many and varied, but the "coaster" is far the most popular. It is made in a circle and in such a manner that a carload of people is dashed around it after the order of coasting in the snow, and it is said by those who tried it to be the most exciting of experiences. The editors were invited to take a ride, but only a few of the more reckless availed themselves of the invitation, although it is claimed that the danger of the thing is only imaginary. Dr. John D. Woods, the capital companion and the capital editor of the Frankfort Capital, said he had just as lief be killed as scared to death and did not want now to give up the public printing, after getting ready to do it better than it was ever done before.

NOTES.

The Louisville Hotel opened its doors to the editors and gave them the fat of the land without price and without price.

Col. E. Polk Johnson, as usual, had a pleasant word for everybody and increased his already great popularity with the boys. We were much pleased to make the acquaintance of Mr. Urey Woodson, of the Owensboro Messenger. He is a brilliant young man and almost as handsome as he is talented.

THE L. & N. R. R. was liberal in its courtesies to the press and President M. H. Smith deserves its warmest thanks. An Exposition of any kind would be a small affair without the cooperation of rail roads.

Dr. Woods thought that the "Woman Triumphant" needed a Mother Hubbard. But the Doctor's taste has not been educated to that fine, æsthetic point that enables him to behold with complacency the figure of a nude woman, even if he could and is not marbled.

In our dispatch to Friday's paper, describing the addresses, the banquet and the toasts, we omitted reference to the response of Dan E. O'Sullivan to the toast drunk in honor of President Young. It was highly eulogistic of Louisville's most progressive and wide-awake citizen and was applauded with a vim.

In responding to a toast at the Exposition banquet, Craddock remarked that on one occasion Daniel Boone had called him "a d—d fool," and before the Colonel had taken his seat there were a hundred others who would have sworn that Daniel had sized the old man up pretty well in his brief but pointed description.

Hon. E. F. Madden, the Press Ag't, is daily convincing the management that it made an admirable appointment when it selected him. He labored in every way for the success of the undertaking and if the fact that the Exposition is open to the public is not known even to the four corners of the earth it is not because he has not sent out the information broadcast. The thanks of the Press Association are due him for the handsome way he contributed to their enjoyment last Thursday.

The Kentucky Press Association was re-organized in Louisville at night by the election of the following officers: President, J. Stoddard Johnston, Frankfort; Vice-President, James W. Hopper, Lebanon; Secretary, Urey Woodson, Owensboro; Treasurer, Hawthorne Hill, Louisville; Orator, C. T. Allen, Princeton; Poet, Wallace Gruelle, Cloverport. Messrs. E. Polk Johnson, C. T. Allen and J. W. Hopper were appointed a committee on constitution. The proposition to take an excursion to Mexico later in the year was discussed and favorably received.

NICHOLASVILLE is shrouded over a scandal in which Hon. E. T. Lillard, Representative from Jessamine, takes the leading part. Miss Nancy Rue, a good looking girl of 14, accuses him of forcibly detaining her against her will, with intent of having carnal knowledge of her. Lillard is having arrested and will be tried to-morrow. His friends are usual claim that it is a patent case of blackmail.

We have been repeatedly asked if voting in the primary election binds the voter to support the nominee, or simply imposes upon him the obligation not to oppose the successful candidate in the final struggle. There is nothing about the matter in the resolutions of the committee appointing the election, the requirement only being that a man "shall be a good democrat and that he has generally voted the democratic ticket." It is simply a question of conscience and it is to be hoped that no good man will be deterred from doing his duty in the matter. Should voters stand off because they prefer not to pledge themselves, the very result which they wish to see awarded would be accomplished. Let every good democrat therefore make it a point to vote at the primary election to select a Congressional candidate next Saturday.

The Louisville Times publishes letters from the most reliable sources showing that the charge of seducing the woman he afterwards married can be proved on Blaine beyond the shadow of a doubt. The only truth connected with the scandal is the one that the marriage was solemnized because of the persuasive eloquence of a shot-gun. The only arguments used were those of mutual friends, who begged him to repair the wrong he had done the woman, who was then nearing the period of maternity. There can be no doubt of the story, but it is said that Blaine is prepared, in case the proof is too strong against him, to produce the certificate of a Catholic priest to a secret marriage of date adapted to meet the requirements of such an emergency. In the meantime we have money to wager that the Indianapolis suit will never be brought to trial.

THE well-informed newspaper, the New York Herald, says: "A survey of the field at this moment gives promise of a 'tidal wave' in November against the Blaine ticket. From all quarters reports come to us of very large and increasing republican opposition to the Blaine ticket and much smaller defection from the democratic ranks than was at one time feared. There is, according to our reports, a spirit and determination this fall among the voters everywhere which promise very important results—a determination to 'make a change' and to see whether the people still control or whether the 'machine' politicians really have the country by the throat."

THE situation in Virginia is about as promising for the democracy as it could be. Mahone and his henchman, Gov. Cameron, have locked horns and each is striving to be boss. With this condition of affairs it is conceded by those who are friendly to Mahone that he has not the ghost of a chance of carrying the State for Blaine and Logan. The discord in his party has so discouraged the national republican committee that they held out no hopes that they will furnish Mahone any money this year. The mother of States and statesmen may yet take her place of yore.

W. J. STONE, of Lyon, Speaker of what was known as the Grange Legislature, was nominated by the democrats in Oscar Turner's district Saturday. The "old outlaw" refused to allow the use of his name, hoping as usual to be elected without the aid of a democratic nomination. It is to be hoped that Mr. Stone is sufficiently popular to retire Turner, but if he is not, a good republican is preferable to such a man as Oscar.

Mr. Dan E. O'Sullivan has resigned the position of Managing Editor of the Courier-Journal, which he has so admirably filled, and will leave in a few days for New York to enter journalism there.

NOTES OF CURRENT EVENTS.

—The New York Greenbackers have put an electoral ticket in the field.

—The Somerset Reporter has suspended, owing to the foreclosure of a mortgage on it.

—The Pennsylvania greenbackers have adopted as a Butler badge, "a red rose on a green leaf."

—Tom Robertson's majority in the 4th District over McKay was 1,400; over Montgomery 725 and over Hobbs 2,730.

—John Fox, of this county, sold to John Buchanan, of Bourbon county, a fine pair of mules for $300 this week. (Richmond Register.)

—At Prospect Park Jay-Eye-See made an attempt to beat the record, 2000, and failed. Three efforts were made, the best time being 2,124.

—The Republican-Reader Congressional Convention in the Fourth Virginia district ended in a split, and two nominations—J. D. Brady and J. P. Evans.

—The State convention of the prohibitionists of Kentucky was held in Louisville. An electoral ticket, with Gen. Green Clay Smith and Col. George W. Bain at large was nominated, and E. J. Polk and J. J. Rast elected for this district.

—By the wrecking of the steamer Belmont near Henderson, Friday, 14 lives were lost. The vessel, used as a transfer boat for the L. & N. railroad between Henderson and Evansville, was en route South with a train and the accident occurred nine miles below the latter city. The wind, which was blowing a gale, struck the craft with such force as to separate the cabin from the hull. The former containing many people, was blown into the river, while the hull was turned over. The train of cars, with a majority of the passengers, on a barge in tow by the Belmont, escaped injury. A survivor says that the passengers on the boat were terror-stricken some time before the accident occurred and when the boat actually capsized it was all over in a few seconds. Circumstances were such that those who remained on the barge saw the steamer sink with all on board without being able to assist them. The boat lies in 14 feet of water and will be a total loss. She was built at Pittsburgh three years ago at a cost of $22,000.

—Judge Thomas H. Hines is now the Chief Justice of Kentucky.

—Henry Ward Beecher is going to peak in Indiana for Hendricks this month.

—Paul Booker Reid is announced for mayor of Louisville with a capital chance of getting the office.

—R. H. Johnson, sheriff of Hickman county, Kentucky, while assisting in a barn raising, fell and sustained injuries that resulted in death.

—A Chicago jury decided that Wilbur F. Storey, of the Chicago Times, is a distracted person, incapable of managing or controlling his estate.

—A Bowling Green dispatch says that Pless Erchert, the young man confined in jail charged with rape, was released on $2,000 bond, John Adams a kinsman, going on the bond.

—A train of cars bearing the Orleans Anglo-American Circus was destroyed by fire near Windsor, Col., Thursday. Fifteen lives and a vast amount of property were destroyed.

—The Treadway Reserves, of St. Louis, won the $3,000 prize for being the best drilled company at the Exposition, the Montgomery Greys got second money and Indianapolis Infantry the third.

—O. O. Stanley says the solid South, New Jersey, Indiana and Wisconsin are certain for Cleveland, with an even chance of carrying New York, Ohio, Michigan, California and Connecticut.

—Lady Dejamet, the property of W. H. Wilson, of Cynthiana, Ky., will be raffled off at $10 a chance, provided 500 chances can be sold. It will be remembered that Mr. Wilson lost heavily by the burning of his stables recently.

—Thos. A. Jones, asst. supt. House of Correction, Baltimore, was supposed to be a childless old bachelor at 60, when he wed Maggie Jones. She discovered nine grown children and left him. She sues for divorce and he says she is unchaste.

—According to a Milwaukee authority the total yield of wheat in the United States this year is fully 25,000,000 bushels more than ever produced before, 130,000,000 more than last year's crop and 80,000,000 more than the average crop for the past years.

—We have it upon the most mendacious authority that the republican nominee for President will withdraw from the ticket after the election in Maine. The republicans, it is thought, will succeed in carrying that State and thus the Knight of the White Feather will gracefully retire claiming a vindication and assigning personal reasons for his act. (C. J.)

CRAB ORCHARD, LINCOLN COUNTY.

—Several new cases of flux in the last few days.

—We had a splendid rain last Thursday night, the effect of which is very perceptible upon the late corn, and pasture lands.

—Madam Kumor has it that Samuel Holman, late of C. O. Springs, eloped with Miss Claudia Carson of this city on Sunday last; if true we extend our best wishes.

—There was a deputy postmaster put in an appearance here last Tuesday 26 inst. His name is John Andrew Chadwick, and weighs 8½ lbs. The postmaster is now a "bigger man than old Grant."

—Attention of our "city fathers" is called to the old stile-block at the town burying ground. They are all in a wretched condition and should be repaired at once. It is very dangerous to pass over them in their present condition.

—W. T. B. White bought of Hiram Hiatt 1 lot of scrub yearling cattle for $13 per head and a cow and calf for $33. Wm. Anderson was here Saturday offering 4½ cts. for hogs that would weigh 100 lbs. and upward; but few were sold at those figures.

—Subert Cook left in company Mr. Rogers last week for Rockcastle Springs. Miss Mattie Evans has returned home after a six weeks' visit to friends in adjoining counties. Miss Nannie Wood a charming young lady from Danville, is visiting Miss Louisa James. Miss Lizzie Turner and Bettie McFall, of Woodford county are visiting Miss Beauregard Stuart. Mrs. S. F. H. Tarrant has arrived from a trip South and will in connection with Prof. Rice open school here next Monday.

—Mrs. Elizabeth Hardin, wife of Samuel Hardin, died at this place last Friday morning, of typhoid flux. She was buried Saturday at 10 o'clock A. M. in the church yard near town where 7 of her 13 children had preceded her. The remains were followed to their last resting place by a large number of sorrowing friends and neighbors, who deeply sympathize with the bereaved family. Mrs. Hardin was in her 57th year. She was the daughter of Ferdinand Fredray and was born in Crab Orchard Oct. 6th 1827 where with the exception of about 3 years she has ever lived. She was noted for her goodness of heart, ever ready to help those in affliction or need. How often has many a poor sufferer's heart been made to rejoice by her appearance at his bedside with some delicacy to tempt his last appetite. She will be sadly missed not only by her own family, but by the entire community.

—There was quite a crowd in town Friday and Saturday last, a good portion coming to see the match games of base ball played here between Stanford and Lancaster, Stanford and Somerset, on Friday, and the game between Somerset and Williamsburg on Saturday. As there were several attaches of the INTERIOR JOURNAL present we suppose they reported the details in full consequently we forbear to do so. The game between Stanford and Lancaster was a very tame one. A rain about 12 o'clock put an end to it to the relief of all present. It was easily seen from the commencement that the Lancasters as present, were not a match for the Stanfords. The practice shooting by the Gun Clubs of Stanford and Lancaster was appreciated by the spectators and did credit to several members of each club.

Henry Bright carried off the honors by breaking 18 balls out of 20 shots, Curran and Owsley, of Stanford, 17 balls and Burdette, of Lancaster, 17 the others ranging from 15 to 11. After the clubs were through Steve Myers called for a gun and proved to all present that he was no slouch by breaking three balls out of 4 shots. The club should admit Steve as a member at once. We are satisfied he would make a crack shot with a little practice.

MT. VERNON DEPARTMENT.

Managed by Jno. B. Fish.

—The protracted meeting closed at Buckeye last Thursday. There were nine additions.

—Rockcastle county contributed five inmates to the penitentiary at the last term of her court.

The flux is prevailing to an alarming extent in this community. There are several cases in the neighborhood of Brodhead.

—We have received an invitation to the marriage of Mr. A. D. Smith to Miss Nellie Oliver, at Brownsville, Tenn., on Wednesday, Sept. 10th.

—Mr. Wm. M. Webber has shipped his household goods to Knoxville, Tenn., and will follow with his family in a few days. He will engage in the drug business at that place.

—W. M. & J. T. Fish have sold their farm on Renfro's creek in this county to John and James Coffey for $3,800. This is one of the best little farms in the county.

—Farmers say that the late rains are making the corn ears lengthen out wonderfully and that if the frost should hold off long enough there will be considerably over half a crop raised in the county.

—Joe Thompson and John Redman are out on the street breaking rock. They were given 120 and 30 days, respectively, at the last term of court—Thompson for receiving stolen property and Redman for house-breaking.

—Robt. Brooks was trying to ride a wild mule yesterday, when he was thrown off and his arm dislocated. Drs. Brown and Lovell were standing by when he fell and they soon pulled the joints in their proper position. Bob says he won't try to ride any more wild mules.

—Elders Vanhook, Snodgrass and Limerick began a few days' meeting at this place last Friday night. Eld. Vanhook has preached some very interesting sermons. The meeting will continue perhaps to the middle of the week. We are requested to announce that there will be a basket meeting at the colored church near this place on the first Sunday in September. There will be several preachers present.

—Mrs. George Jones and family, of Louisville, have been visiting her father at this place. Col. Sam M. Burdett spent Sunday with friends here. Mr. W. L. Jones and bride, of Williamsburg, are spending a few days of their honeymoon at this place. Quite a number of pretty girls are up from Brodhead attending the meeting. Miss Lou Williams has returned home, after a lengthy visit in Madison county.

—Thursday evening about 5 o'clock there was a shooting scrape near Pine Hill between Geo. W. Brown, Tip Langford and Wm. Bryant on side and Van Mason, J. H. Owens and Bud Suttles on the other. The difficulty came up about some defamatory remarks, which Brown is said to have made about Mason and others in that vicinity.

Mason went to Brown with his pistol drawn and told him if he had used the language attributed to him he would kill him. Brown replied that he had not used the language. Mason told him that it was all right, then, and that they would stop the quarrel where it was. Three or four hours later as Brown and his men were returning to the section-house from their work, they met Mason and his party, who made demonstrations as if to fire. B and his men seized their arms and began to shoot about the same time that Mason and his party did. About twenty shots were fired in all, one of which took effect in the left shoulder of Mason. The ball struck his cheek, ranged downward and entered the shoulder and came out just under the shoulder-blade. The shot is supposed to have been from a needle gun in the hands of Brown. Brown is foreman on the Pine Hill section of the L. & N. railroad and was in the discharge of his duties. He came to town Friday and surrendered himself to the county judge and his examining trial was set for to-day. The public sympathy is with Brown, who says he will give up his position at once and not work any more on that section, as his life is in constant danger every moment he is on the works.

Don't Give Up Yet.

It doesn't follow that a patient will die because the doctors have "given him up," or that he will recover just because they promise to "pull him through." It is never too late to try the great virtues of Parker's Tonic. Mr. Michael Guilfoyle, of Birmingham, N. Y., was cured of Rheumatism by it after ten years of unrelenting suffering. Mr. R. W. Mosher, druggist, of same city, certifies that he has sold over a thousand bottles of Parker's Tonic through its reputation for this and other cures.
